Run report: 2110: Copit, Cum'n'Time & Blowback
Chez Copit, 39 Keesing Rd, Douglas.

You picked on someone to do a run report but I never went on the run. First time ever I was downloaded at Tom's Tavern. Now for the third time in a row I have had to suffer walking back with Hemroid. Will someone please tell him that I know the answer to life, the universe and everything (it's forty two!) When I could have learnt what happen on the run all I could hear was Twitter.

The GM was noticeably missing so Clever Punt acting GM performed an excellent circle with Wart off siding as JM. Except the raffles were rigged again. Hofa won the free piss so the club won again as she was torn away by Zika-carrying Tyson to go home for his next injection. Lucky Hofa. POW went to Clever Punt for scoring a half-century in what he calls "life". Erectus stayed with Sudden Insane as he likes it so much as a trophy on the mantelpiece.

Thanks for Cum'n'Time, Copit and Blowy for putting on the run at short notice.

On on, Cods

During a recent password audit by a company, it was found that an employee was using the following password:

"MickeyMinniePlutoHueyLouie
DeweyDonaldGoofyCanberra".

When asked why she had such a long password she rolled her eyes and said, "Hello! It has to be at least 8 characters and include at least one capital."

Next Weeks Run 2113
Celebrate TVH³ 39th Birthday
BRING A MUG
Traditional Bucket and Nosh
33 Mitchell St, North Ward

A young woman had been taking golf lessons. She had just started playing her first round of golf when she suffered a bee sting. Her pain was so intense that she decided to return to the clubhouse for help. The golf pro saw her come into the clubhouse and asked, 'Why are you back in so early? What's wrong?' 'I was stung by a bee,' she said. 'Where?' he asked. 'Between the first and second hole', she replied. He nodded knowingly and said, 'Then your feet were too far apart.'

A single bloke decided life would be more fun if he had a pet. So he went to the pet store and told the owner that he wanted to buy an unusual pet. After some discussion, he finally bought a talking centipede, which came in a little white box to use for his house.

He went back home, found a good spot for the box, and decided he would start off by taking his new pet to the pub for a drink. So he asked the centipede in the box, "Would you like to go down to the pub with me today? We will have a good time."

But there was no answer from his new pet.

This bothered him a bit, but he waited a few minutes and then asked again, "How about going down the pub with me?"

But again, there was no answer.

So he waited a few minutes more.

The guy decided to invite the centipede one last time. This time he put his face up against the centipede's box and shouted, "Hey, you in there!"

"WOULD – YOU – LIKE – TO – GO – TO – THE – PUB – WITH – ME?"

This time, a little voice came out of the box. "I heard you the first time! I'm putting my fucking shoes on!"

The Buffalo Theory

A herd of buffalo can only move as fast as the slowest buffalo. And when the herd is hunted, it is the slowest and weakest ones at the back that are killed first. This natural selection is good for the herd as a whole, because the general speed and health of the whole group keeps improving by the regular killing of the weakest members.

In much the same way, the human brain can only operate as fast as the slowest brain cells. Excessive intake of alcohol, as we know, kills brain cells. But naturally, it attacks the slowest and weakest brain cells first. In this way, regular consumption of beer eliminates the weaker brain cells, making the brain a faster and more efficient machine. That's why you always feel smarter after a few beers."
