Run 2139- the Collywobbles Caper

Cowboy and Tyson (the polly-waffles) told us to come dressed in black and white gear – I guess we have to support the Kiwis some time I thought to myself. The pack arrived and the Kiwis got upset as we weren't supporting them but in fact we were supporting Eddie and his Collywobbles. Banners and memorabilia were strewn around the backyard and mention was made about the weekends game where the Collywobbles were beaten by 14 points – many excuses were made by the polly-waffles but none were listened to by the pack.

Cowboy bleated (a sound that excites Kiwis when it comes from a sheep) that some non-existent rain had washed out the trail which was marked in charcoal – very easy to see on the bitumen!

The pack set off in a multitude of directions –some the right way and some the wrong way (similar to the Collywobbles midfield players). A drink-stop was found by most and the pack arrived back to quench their thirst. Blowback beat the pack home and was heard to say that he had gone to visit some friends but they would not let him in so he had to return to the trailer. Wart escorted Mother Duck back and reported that the rest of the pack was lost – what a good trail master he is – he lost everyone but Mother Duck!

Nibbles of black and white boiled lollies, liquorice, chips and cheese was feasted upon and the circle began. Booger with his keen eyesight managed to spot supporters of Port Power and Saint Kilda – must be plenty of discussion at home for Kung Poo and Pussy Lane when the two teams play each other! Betty Barefoot was sporting a Hawthorn flag but as they are yet to win a game this season rather than further embarrass her Booger left her in the crowd.

Charges came and went and the best charge came from Booger's Amelia. She was very impressed about how well the circle ran now that Booger was GM. As his chest puffed out in pride he was left deflated when she said it was because he wasn't in the crowd interjecting all the time!

Chris was called out the front and asked to get on his knees – could this be a naming but no he was asked to send some runners off for a down-down.

His luck changed for the better next time he was called out as the Monk arrived and determined that Chris was a barista who plays with (coffee) beans (and his own bean according to the monk). He is now known as Mr Bean – welcome Mr Bean (we expect to see you driving and parking a mini soon).

Orgasm was called out and received her mug (which she promptly threw in the mug bucket after her down down) and patch for 50 runs. Self-Abuse then took front and centre stage to celebrate his status as the newest TVH3 legend. As they stood together it was a case of the long and the short of it! The raffle prizes were won and Mr Bean managed to win a bottle of Rene Pogel (spell it backwards if you really want to know what he won).

Nosh was served and it was no surprise that pies were served – although just to keep in with the Collywobbles theme the pies came from an esky and as Tyson remarked it was just like going to a Collywobbles home game where the pies were colder than the beers they served.

Cat-blew left with a whirring of bike bits (and the erectus) and from the way she left she may still have a bit to learn about riding an electric bike.

The stayers bought their last beers and settled in until Cowboy moved them on to chez Shatter. Another good night – well done fellas.

On-On

Wet-cheques

PLEASE NOTE:-

In February 2017 the TVH3 committee voted to only count runs in the official run count which were attended at Townsville Hash. In April 2017 the committee revisited this decision and agreed that away runs (e.g.:-Nash Hash, Inter-hash, celebration runs of other clubs, regular Monday night runs of other clubs) attended by Townsville hashers would be eligible to be counted in the official run count. If you have any away runs from 17 January 2017 to date which you would like included in your run count please see hash cash on a Monday night.

Hash Song - Doh A Beer

Melody – Do, Re, Mi. (Sound of Music)

*Doh, a beer, a very cold beer,
Ray, the guy who buys me beer,
Me, the guy, who drinks the beer,
Far, a long-long way to run,(to a drink stop)
So, I think I've have another beer!
La, la, la, la, la, la, la.
Tea, no thanks I'll have another beer,
And that brings us back to Doh, doh, doh, doh...*

For the Golfers :-

Noting that her husband looked more haggard and disgruntled than usual after his weekly golf game, his wife asked what was wrong. He answered, "Well, on the 4th hole, Harry had a heart attack and died. It was terrible! The entire rest of the day, it was hit the ball, drag Harry, hit the ball, drag Harry!"

O'Keefe regularly plays golf on Sunday mornings with three orthodox Jews. Every Sunday, they break par while he shoots 90. At the end of the season, he asks for their secret. It's their religion, they tell him. They go to synagogue, study, pray, celebrate the festivals and Sabbath, then play golf on Sundays and have great rounds. Desperate to play well, over the winter O'Keefe converts, joins a synagogue, prays, celebrates the festivals and Sabbath, and looks forward to spring. Come spring, he meets his friends and they tee it up. Again, they break par and he shoots 90. Frustrated, he explains that he converted, prayed, worshipped, and studied, but his golf didn't get any better. One Orthodox Jew asks, "Which synagogue did you join?"

"Beth Shalom," O'Keefe replies. "Fool," comes the reply. "That's the synagogue for tennis.
