Run report: 2151

I can't remember if the acting G.M Shocker had appointed a scribe for this week's run and I don't care and here goes.

The reasonable pack gathered at G.M Booger's abode. The hares, Wart and Dunkin, mumbled something about the walkers going in one direction and the runners in another. The runners, of whom there were only 4 including the hare set off to Streaker's place of employ and expected an alcoholic beverage to accompany their factious hair-cuts. The walkers, in the meanwhile, staggered around Gulliver following Dunkin. The runners ran and the walkers walked and walked. All finally arriving home to some left-over nosh from the week end.

The circle was called with acting G.M Shocker calling the shots and acting J.M Swamp supplying the beautiful Belgium brew, which the who were lucky enough to receive a down-down, thoroughly enjoyed (not). Visitors and virgins were blessed with this beautiful brew. Verbal report from the runners, walkers and Sherlock were given. Down-downs came and went and raffles were drawn and won. Nosh of left-overs, from the 2150 run, was heated and eaten. Many thanks for the left-overs to our caterers 'Kookaburra and Goanna'.

What happened after that, I don't know as Tart Ann, Creamy and Swamp had a pressing appointment at the hospital, picking up the 'in-laws', mine. Great nosh and great company.

On-on Swamp.

The Titanic was the first ship to use the 'S.O.S' signal. It was adopted as the international signal for distress in 1912, and the Titanic struck the icebreg in April of that year.

Napolean's hemorrids contributed to his defeat at Waterloo. They prevented him from surveying the battlefield on horseback.

Once upon a time, a Prince asked a beautiful Princess - "Will you marry me?"

The Princess immediately said, "No!"

And the Prince lived happily ever after. He rode motorcycles; dated thin, long-legged, full-breasted women; hunted and fished; raced cars; went to titty bars and dated ladies half his age; drank whisky, beer, and Captain Morgan; never heard bitching; never paid child support or alimony; dated cheerleaders; and kept his house and guns; ate spam and potato chips and beans; and blew enormous farts; never got cheated on while he was at work; and all his friends and family thought he was fucking cool as hell; and he had tons of money in the bank and left the toilet seat up all the time.

The End.

TOLD YOU IT WAS A FAIRY TALE.
