Run Report 2167 – The Kelso Experience

Basking in the glory of 40 wonderful years of Townsville HHH, we ventured into the far south west as Kelso Hash lured us in. It was a relief to get to the dam without becoming part of a crime scene and we eagerly awaited Brother Touch Up's instructions ... he mentioned a welcome to country and the "Toorak" of Townsville ... but none of that made sense... he sent the runners and walkers in towards the dam base and a tough climb up to the top of the wall. The strange sight of water greeted us, and we basked in its luxury as the stroll along the wall took place. A sharp descent, with the runners led by Clever Punt and the Walkers by Shocker - then into some wayward tracks. I would have liked to report in more detail but became lost ... someone must have stolen the dunny paper!

There were some friendly calls of On-On from Serenity and some good support at the trailer as the RSL was closed. Some refreshments were taken to recover from the exercise in good hash tradition and our "Fly-In Fly-Out" GM arrived to bring the wobble to order.

Run reports were called for and Ballsy came up with "Dam Fine Run" which shows that at least part of his brain is still working. He should have left it there as his two-piece stunt with Imelda showed a distinct lack of rehearsal time.

IMELDA: I'm going to Africa

BALLSY: There are Lions in Africa!

...And it quickly went downhill from there ...

Please interrogate them next run as to how it was supposed to go ... they may have had more practice time.

There was some other Hash business and some well-deserved compliments to the organizers of the 40th run. Sherlock gave a riveting report on the Tuesday Seaview minus run gathering with many hash luminaries attending.

I can vaguely remember Tyson and Groper anxious to get rid of their awards with "keep it" being mentioned a few times and one of the lucky winners was Prickless.

There were many other charges and then we were rewarded with some Pizza ... which was inhaled at a great rate. I can't believe that I am saying this, but I enjoyed the Kelso Experience and the fresh air and country setting was a delight ... Thank you Touch Up and Cuttle ... and of course our wonderful Brewmeister for the refreshments.

On-On PYTHAGORARSE

PS – late or non-delivery of a hash run report will cost the scribe a 6-pack of ale paid to the Editor & / or the G.M.
