RUN REPORT #2135

The run start was in beautiful downtown South Townsville where the picturesque view was accompanied by the sound of waves gently lapping against the shore. We had tables, chairs and cover from the rain – what could possibly go wrong? The runners and walkers set off and for the trailer dwellers the sand-flies arrived to party on alcohol fuelled bodies. The runners arrived back after a drink stop and some continued to run – they said it was to get the kilometres up but I suspect it may have been more to do with burning off the rocket fuel from the drink stop! The walkers arrived back several minutes after the runners – it was good to see the runners back first for a change.

The aeroguard was handed around, some dips and bikkies found their way onto a BBQ area. Drinks were in hand and Pokeher and Dunkin were congratulating themselves on a great venue and then it happened – Booger was called on to use his new found legal background to convince the council response team that we were not in fact drinking alcohol in a public place – not surprisingly he failed as most of the pack was standing around drinking beer!

The backup plan was to move to another public place – it was then that I realised that they didn't know about the local law prohibiting drinking alcohol in public places in Townsville – shame on you Pokeher. Luckily Wetspot had the phone number of Blotto and Rex and we invited the pack to their place.

The circle began and there were icings aplenty – the hares, Catblew, Coyote Ugly and Shatter all managed to get a cold ring. Charges were made and Shocker with a devilish grin kept handing out leftover drink stop rocket fuel – it consisted of 5 litres of wine and a touch of orange juice (with a little bit of choke it could have put a rocket on the moon). Most complained about the taste of the drink stop and the only smile in the pack belonged to Tyson, who hoped that he would no longer be the holder of the worst drink stop award!

Wrong Way must have been going the right way as he received his 50 run mug and patch – congratulations. Pullthru “the ideas man” managed to get into the shirt Streaka was wearing (not sure what Ewok thought about it) and the erectus was shared with Jestkidding.

The raffles were drawn and the three winners (Sudden Insane, Sherlock and Rektinol) all had blue “big O” tickets so who better to send them off than the “big O” Orgasm. Which reminds me of a story

Serenity's wife recently told me. She said that there are four types of orgasm – the religious one (oh god, oh god) the positive one (yes, yes, yes) the negative one (oh no, oh no, oh no) and the fake orgasm (oh Serenity, oh Serenity).

Food in the form of fresh meat and salad rolls wrapped in alfoil arrived (in keeping with the space theme they looked like spaceships). The hares, in a desperate attempt at bribery, offered to supply Tuesday lunches to the pack and many hashers were seen leaving with an extra roll or two.

We left Blotto, Rex and the dog with our thanks (and our rubbish) and wandered off to wherever hashers wander off to on a Monday night. Overall a good A to B run which was saved by the Blotto backyard.

A harrier and a harriette who had never met before, found themselves sharing a bunk room at large hash weekend. Although the harrier was initially embarrassed and uneasy over sharing a room, they were both very tired and fell asleep quickly, he in the upper berth and she in the lower. At 1:00 AM, the harrier leaned down and gently woke the harriette saying, “Excuse me, I'm sorry to bother you, but would you be willing to reach into that cupboard to get me a second blanket? I'm awfully cold.”

“I have a better idea”, the harriette replied, “Just for tonight, why not pretend that we're married.”

“Wow! That's a great idea!” exclaimed the harrier.

“OK” replied the harriette. “Get your own fucking blanket.”

A Cessna inbound at the reporting point over Manly Beach.

Tower (Female voice): “Cessna WYXD, congestion at airport approach. I'm going to have to hold you over the Manly area.”

Cessna WYXD: “I love it when you talk dirty to me.”
