Run Report 2476 –Copit & Blow Back – Chauncy Cr, Douglas

This run report is going to be “rather objective” as the scribe was one of the hares. (The actual nominee is MIA.)

The run was going to be set in two phases. The first phase was to be in the morning when all the chalk arrows were to be put on the bitumen, concrete and available rocks. The second phase was to be later, in the afternoon, when dunny paper was going to be set to guide the pack through the scrub. Afternoon was chosen because it was school hols, and there are a few “cretinous creatures” in the area who would have loved to drag the paper down. So that was Plan A.

First phase completed, it was time for a decent shower to wash away all the arrows, and make the scrub disgustingly moist and virtually unrunnable. Thanks, God! Plan A was aborted and unfortunately there was no real Plan B. So the runners and walkers followed the maps – well the runners, anyway – the walkers decided to short-cut the second half of the trail.

So it was time for chats and drinks, then the circle, where the new PoW shirt was given to Cat Blew, and then raffles and nosh of ham and salad sangers. The rain never got any worse than a bit of a spit so the night went fairly well.

“Objectivity” means there can be no comments about goodness/badness of any features of the evening.

On on to Pink Bits and G String . . . Anon.

Twenty Concepts to Ponder:

01. If a bottle of poison reaches its expiration date, is it more poisonous or is it no longer poisonous?

02. Which letter is silent in the word "Scent," the S or the C?

03. Do twins ever realize that one of them is unplanned?

04. Every time you clean something, you just make something else dirty.

05. The word "swims" upside-down is still "swims"

06. Over 100 years ago, everyone owned a horse and only the rich had cars Today everyone has cars and only the rich own horses.

07. If people evolved from monkeys, why are monkeys still around?

08. Why is there a 'D' in fridge, but not in refrigerator?

09. As we grow older, we learn that pleasing everyone is impossible, but pissing everyone off is a piece of cake!

10. We are responsible for what we say, not for what you understand.

11. Common sense is like deodorant. The people who need it the most never use it.

12. My tolerance for idiots is extremely low these days. I used to have some immunity built up, but obviously, there's a new strain out there.

13. It's not my age that bothers me - it's the side effects.

14. As I watch this generation try and rewrite our history, I'm sure of one thing: it will be misspelled and have no punctuation.

15. As I've gotten older, people think I've become lazy. The truth is I'm just being more energy-efficient.

16. If you find yourself feeling useless, remember: it took 20 years, trillions of dollars, thousands of lives and four presidents to replace the Taliban with the Taliban.

17. My mind is like an internet browser. At least 18 open tabs, 3 of them are frozen, and I have no clue where the music is coming from.

18. Hard to believe I once had a phone attached to a wall, and when it rang, I picked it up without knowing who was calling.

19. My wife says I keep pushing her buttons. If that were true, I would have found mute by now!

20. There is no such thing as a grouchy old person. The truth is that once you get old, you stop being polite and start being honest.
