RUN REPORT 2551

ANZAC run

The pack assembled at Think Big and El Dringo's NZAC Run (do you like that Think Big, the K1W1's get a mention first?).

The run brief was given and the pack dispersed being pied out of the yard to the sound of bagpipes (thanks to ED & TB's good mate).

The twotters deserted Blow Back and joined da runners. Following Trail through the streets of Pimlico until they had enough of the runners and decided to short cut home.

Back home and we were treated to fresh fruit and ANZAC bickies. Whilst we waited for the circle to begin we visited the pop up museum where we were treated to an awesome display of Captain and his family's display of medals and memorabilia.

The circle was finally called to order and in good ANZAC Day tradition we started the circle with the last post and a minutes silence. ED lit the Eternal Flame which kept going out, but none the less it was a nice touch.

We welcomed our returning runners back and called up the runners, twotters, walkers and the GM of Beer Hunter Hash so they could spread some bullshit bout their awesome experience on the run.

After several more down downs and G String sitting on Ice in order to claim his lost property, it was time to raffle up.

Raffles drawn with unpopular winners, with the POW MIA the erectus was handed over to Desperate.

Circle closed and time to get into some awesome mash.

Thanks Think Big for cooking up a storm (as usual the pack enjoyed the feast).

Thanks El Dringo (and your piper friend) for a great run.

Reminder!

As the weather begins to change, the evenings are getting darker, earlier. Remember to bring your torch/phone torch along to hash for when you walk/run.
